

FATHER REFUSED TO KEEP CHILDREN.

Magistrate Gave Monolow Money and Got Him Work, but Little Ones Were Not Provided For.

Hypocrisy and ingratitude were the unwritten charges against Frank Monolow, of No. 65 North Sixth street, Williamsburg, when he was arraigned before Magistrate Higginbotham in the Lee Avenue Court, charged with abandoning his four children.

Less than six weeks ago Monolow had been arraigned before the same Magistrate on the same charge. At that time he told a pitiful story of his wife being in an insane asylum; that he had lost his place in a sugar refinery and that he really wanted to keep his children with him, but that he had no money and no work.

"If I could only get work I should keep my children with me all the time," declared Monolow giving the four bright looking youngsters a loving glance. "You can see yourself, judge, what nice children they are. How can any man abandon them?"

The children were cleanly dressed, smiling and apparently much in love with their father. There are three girls and one boy, the oldest ten years and the youngest less than three years old. Magistrate Higginbotham was so greatly impressed by the earnestness of Monolow that he discharged him and gave him $10 out of his own pocket.

"Take $5 for the children now, and if you do not get work you can come back and get the other $5 for your little ones," said the Magistrate. "In the meanwhile I will see if I cannot get work for you."

After court was over the Magistrate telephoned the superintendent of one of the big sugar refineries, and on his application Monolow was given employment paying him from $10 to $12 a week.

He worked several weeks and then went back and got the remaining $5. The children were in the care of Mrs. Annie Wiener, of No. 39 North Eighth street, Williamsburg, and as Monolow made no effort to pay her for their care she went to his place of employment and asked him what he intended doing.

"I cannot pay you for the keep of the children," he replied. "I am not making enough money." The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children was notified, and after their investigation Mrs. Wiener made the complaint against Monolow.

WILL LET ERNEST BURY HIS CHILD

Magistrate Allows Man Accused of Homicide to Go to the Funeral—Case Based on Incident Months Ago.

Frank Ernest, the janitor of No. 32 West End avenue, who was taken from the side of his dead child's coffin last night on a charge of being a suspicious person, was arraigned before Magistrate Meade to-day in the West Side Court to answer the charge of homicide in connection with the death of Herman Kern, who died on Jan. 12.

"I don't think there is anything to hold this man on—the cause of death is—" said the prisoner's attorney. "Board of Health certificate says Bright's disease," supplemented the magistrate.

Christopher Shierloh said Kern had been found by Ernest and himself in an intoxicated condition in a vacant store at No. 32 West End avenue late at night. Shierloh, with Ernest's assistance, carried him out, and then some friends of Kern picked him up and took him into the hallway of No. 34 West End avenue.

"I called Policeman Douglass," said Shierloh. "To arrest him, as Kern was kicking the front door. The policeman said Kern lived at No. 34, and refused to believe me when I said he didn't."

Policeman Douglass was not in court, and the magistrate ordered him to be brought to the court on Wednesday, and adjourned the case.

"But, Your Honor, my client has got a dead child at home. Can't he go to its funeral?" asked Ernest's lawyer. "Certainly," said the magistrate.

After court was over the Magistrate telephoned the superintendent of one of the big sugar refineries, and on his application Monolow was given employment paying him from $10 to $12 a week.

He worked several weeks and then went back and got the remaining $5. The children were in the care of Mrs. Annie Wiener, of No. 39 North Eighth street, Williamsburg, and as Monolow made no effort to pay her for their care she went to his place of employment and asked him what he intended doing.

"I cannot pay you for the keep of the children," he replied. "I am not making enough money." The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children was notified, and after their investigation Mrs. Wiener made the complaint against Monolow.

SUMMER SHOWS RUN MERRILY ON WITH OPENING OF REGULAR SEASON AT HAND.

Florence Leslie Proctor Stock Co. Elsie Clifford Miss Margaret Cutty Cherry Blossom Grove. Bessie Harvey. AT — KEITHS.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer" Begins at the Academy of Music on Thursday.

"Floradora's" six pretty maidens were lively and exhilarating as the ocean breezes which swept through the Manhattan Beach Theatre during last night's performance of Broadway's most noted success. The tunefulness and vivacity of the piece make it a splendid summer entertainment. Edna Wallace Hopper and the statuesque Helen Redmond were in their usual roles. Most of the other faces looked familiar and pleasing. The children had their last night and "Ancient Rome" in the fireworks pavilion.

"The Queen of Ballyhoo Bay," a skit announced for production at the Cherry Blossom Grove last night, was postponed for another week. The taking feature of the performance was Ernest Hogan's imitation of Creators. He was assisted by a colored band. Hogan is genuinely funny. The Four Cutties and Eva Tanguay remain in the bill. Creators continues to invoke riotous applause from his auditors at Hammerstein's Paradise Gardens. The Zangies, who perform mental feats, were added to the vaudeville spread.

Terrace Garden patrons saw an entertaining production of "The Beggar Student." "A Chinese Honeymoon" at the Casino, "The Defender" at the Herald Square and "The Wild Rose" at the Knickerbocker furnished merrier merit for large audiences.

Attractive variations were made in the vaudeville bills at the Lion Palace Garden and on the Grand Republic's floating roof garden. "The Mikado" runs merrily on top of Madison Square Garden with the Gelsa girls, fencers and wrestlers—adding realism to the spectacle of "Japan by Night."

Williams and Walker are heading the bill at the Brighton Beach Music Hall. Santos Dumont's airship is attracting great crowds to the beach. The ship is all ready to soar and spectators are permitted to sit in the car and see the glider in operation.

The Afro-American troubadours proved successful merry-makers at Hubert's Fourteenth Street Museum. Orchestral concerts, afternoon and evening, are provided for visitors to the Eden Musee.

Alta Yolo, the California contralto, was the feature of Kallenborn's orchestral concert at the Circle last evening. She sang Schubert's song from Faust and was compelled to respond to two encores. Her success of Saturday night with the Duss band was repeated. Alta Yolo has accepted to Mr. Duss's request that she sing at one of his Sunday night concerts.

Miss Myrtle Randall is the new soloist with the Duss Band. She created a most favorable impression last evening. Will H. Fox, an old New York favorite, was seen again at Tony Pastor's in his acrobatic imitation of Paderewski. The Crotty Trio and many other entertaining sketch artists are in the bill.

Eugene O'Rourke, well remembered in comic opera, presented a delightful sketch entitled "Furor At Keith's." He was ably seconded by Nellie Ething. Alice Shaw, the whistler, and her daughters are the top liners at Proctor's Twenty-third street house. "David Garrick" was revived at the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street house and "The Princess of Patches" was brought to light at the Fifth avenue house.

"Grey Jack" is a thrilling picture of the Third Avenue Theatre, which has already inaugurated the regular season. The first event of the regular dramatic season is scheduled for Thursday evening at the Academy of Music, when the play presentation of "Quincy Adams Sawyer," a New England drama, will be given. The play is a dramatization of a popular novel. It has been staged with care and Charles Dickson will head a carefully selected company in the production.

Up and Down of Fortune at the Track for Helen Bartlett.

The tears were still wet on her cheeks when the bell rang. Only a telegram. It was foretold. "Soak the furniture and go the limit on Clipper. You can't lose. We're all on heavy and will bring the stuff home in a van."

Ten dollars to Helen was good as nothing. She knew that Clipper was a good horse and was expected to win. That was a week ago yesterday. Helen went to the track, and her $10 eight dollars went on Clipper. Clipper won in a fashion that would make a stake horse blush with mortification. He was 40 to 1, and the little girl cashed $320.

"To the wilds of Indianapolis for me and to-night!" said Helen. She flew. Back of it all is a moral. Helen figured it out. "When I take a 40-to-1 chance with my last dollar again, let me know. And when the races get me in that fix, again I'll tell you."

Helen looked at her last $10 bill. No chance with that. Then she cried. One day but on many. The long and short of it was that Helen went broke. To cap the climax there came a letter from her home in Indianapolis that her mother was ill and must see her.

No Summer Bowel Troubles

Not for me! I'm safe from all of them and happy. The heat of summer causes a bad matter everywhere. All dead vegetable or animal matter rots if not kept on ice. All undigested food in the human body will ferment a hundred times as quickly in summer as in winter. Consequence—stomach, liver, bowels poisoned, thrown out of order—sour stomach, gases, colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera, appendicitis, and in some regions yellow fever and the plague. Little children suffer terribly everywhere. What does good sense tell you to do? You can't keep the human body on ice, and the drinking of ice-cold drinks does more harm than good because it stops digestion and chills the internal organs. The proper thing is to keep all impure and unnecessary matter out of the body every day, not give it a chance to sour and decay in the stomach and bowels, and poison the blood and the whole body. In this way you will stop all hot, feverish conditions, and keep your insides cool and healthy. To do it, use a medicine that is not offensive to the taste and not harsh and violent in its action. There is only one safe system-cleaner to take in the summer time, because it will not cause diarrhoea or griping, and that is

BROOKLYN SOCIETY GIRL TO SING WITH BOSTONIANS.

Olive Celeste Moore, Daughter of Produce Exchange Member, Will Take Role of Alan-a-Dale at Manhattan Beach.

Olive Celeste Moore, who will make her debut as an opera singer in the role of Alan-a-Dale, with the Bostonians at Manhattan Beach, is the daughter of William Moore, a prominent member of the New York Produce Exchange.

Miss Moore has been popular in Brooklyn society, where she sang a number of times in private last winter. Her voice attracted much attention, even outside her coterie of friends, and the result has been her engagement by the Bostonians.

CONVALESCENTS' HOME FINISHED.

Retreat for Patients from New York Hospitals, Built by Adrian Iselin, Will Soon Be Opened.

(Special to The Evening World.) WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 5.—The work of enlarging St. Eleanor's Home for Convalescent Patients from New York hospitals, built by Millionaire Adrian Iselin, sr., at Scarsdale, was completed today. Mr. Iselin has expended more than $100,000 on the property, which is in memory of his wife, who died three years ago at New Rochelle.

In addition to this home Mr. Iselin, under plans laid out by his daughter, Miss Georgia Iselin, has just built another large structure on the grounds as a retreat for the Sisters of the Visitation.

This institution is entirely separate from the home and is exclusively for members of the order who labor in the tenement-house districts, aiding sick mothers and performing household duties for the incapacitated.

This structure is two and a half stories high, with large rooms and a standing on a river overlooking the valley of the Bronx River. The cost was $25,000.

The grounds are now being laid out with rolling lawns, flower beds and other pretty spots where the sisters can seek seclusion and at the same time enjoy the country air.

Banker Iselin maintains this charity year round at a heavy expense. His daughter is a daily visitor at the institution and she looks after all the welfare of the inmates.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN DROWNED. Police Believe Victim Was Cheeser on Ducks and Fell Overboard.

The body of an unidentified man was found floating in the East River at the foot of North Third street, Williamsburg, to-day. The man was apparently about forty years old, 5 feet 9 inches in height and wore dark clothing and black laced shoes.

In the coat pocket was found a number of invoices for coffee and sugar. The police believe the man was employed as a checker on the docks and accidentally fell overboard and was drowned. The body had been in the water about a week.

OLIVE CELESTE MOORE.

COTTRELL WANTS PRECINCT CLEANED.

New Police Captain Instructs His Men to Suppress All Violators of the Law in Their District.

Capt. John W. Cottrell, promoted from his sergeancy in Jefferson Market Police Court to a captaincy, and assigned to the Madison street station, delivered his first "lecture" to his command when he sent the first squad to posts this morning. His remarks were very like those of Capt. Gallagher to the "Red Light" precinct men at the Eldridge street station. He told the squad that he expected conscientious police duty from them, and that he was in earnest. He said he wanted them to suppress immorality, gambling and pool-rooms, and to arrest every violator of the law. He promised to stand by and support every man who did his duty.

Capt. Cottrell pointed to the example set by Capt. Myles O'Reilly, of the Oak street station. A round dozen of floral horseshoes, sent by the New Captain's friends, literally filled the station-house "floor."

Incidentally, Capt. O'Reilly is congratulating himself, to-day, over the closing of the last remaining disorderly resort in his precinct. Since the memory of man runs the Oak street precinct has been notorious for its saloon and boarding houses, so called, and dives where Jack Tar has been relieved of his savings on his short period ashore. Capt. O'Reilly has closed all these resorts.

The last one was raided in the early hours of to-day. It was at No. 108 Cherry street, and Harry Lawson and Selma, his wife, were arrested and taken to the Essex Market Court as the proprietors of the place.

BIG DEAL IN COAL LANDS. TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Aug. 5.—One of the largest deals in coal lands in the history of this district has just been consummated here. C. F. Robbins, of this city, and W. B. Reynolds, of Montevallo, sold to the McCormick estate of Harrisburg, Pa., 15,000 acres of coal lands for $100,000 cash.

She Cashed in and Hurried to Her Sick Mother's Side.

Friends of Helen Bartlett, chorus girl, who ornamented the first row in the Frank Daniels company last season, are talking of the visitation of Dame Fortune and how it transformed a sorrowful maiden into a very thankful mortal.

Miss Bartlett is pretty and chic. A horse to Miss Bartlett was always valued at its price in the ring. Being of a speculative turn of mind she considered that the labors of a chorus girl, even in the front row, are drudgery. Friends told of 100 to 1 shots which galloped all the way to the wire. It was one of the easiest things in the world to reap a small fortune with a little nerve and some capital.

The front-row girl wasted no time when the season opened at Aqueduct. The only other thing that bothered her was the matinee. It kept her from the track twice a week. The sun shone brightly in the life of the chorus girl. A golden shower answered her call upon fortune.

She won several hundred dollars and figured on the time it would take to accumulate enough coin to enable her to travel as a star and in her own car. Bright visions haunted her dreams. By the end of the summer she would be independent.

There came a moment in Helen's life when she felt that the Fates had unjustly deserted her. Somehow or another the tips she got from the wise ones at the track didn't materialize. Every time she bet on a horse something happened. They simply wouldn't run or couldn't run. Helen could not figure it out.

This thing happened not only on

Dr. Edward Koch Is Here With His Great German Consumption and Asthma Cure.

He Can Be Consulted Free at His New York Office 48 West 22d Street.

Dr. Edward Koch, the inventor of the Koch Inhalation, is now in this city at the Koch Lung Cure, 48 West 22d St. The doctor asserts that bronchial catarrh of the lungs is often mistaken for consumption. Do not fill the stomach full of medicine, which does more harm than good. The doctor says:

Nothing but a direct application of healing, saporous medicines, antiseptics and germicides to the very seat of the disease will effect a cure of this or any other lung case, and they can be applied only by inhaling them in a vaporized state. The treatment is a vaporized state. The treatment is a vaporized state. The treatment is a vaporized state.

This treatment was discovered, perfected and first successfully applied by me. It is the only natural scientific and common-sense treatment ever applied for bronchial and consumptive disease. If it fails, nothing else could possibly succeed. But it never does fail, unless mortal injury to the lung structures has taken place before it is applied. I will positively assert that bronchial or General Consumption can be cured by my healing, oily vapors that reach the seat of the disease, laden as they are with the Koch germ-killing Tuberculin. It can be given at your own home. Send for a booklet explaining the treatment and giving testimonials of patients cured.

After years of careful observation, and examining in spirit of seven hundred cases, I am convinced that fully three-fifths of all deaths charged to consumption are really catarrhal bronchitis associated with dyspepsia, which is brought on from severe dosing.

While I am in New York I shall be pleased to examine the sputum and consult with any patient free who will call upon me at my office, 48 West 22d St.

John L. Burnett, Member of Congress, Seventh Alabama District, writes:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of your Pe-ru-na. At the solicitation of a friend my wife used it, and it improved her condition generally. It is a remarkable remedy. I can cheerfully recommend Pe-ru-na as a good, substantial tonic, and a very good catarrh remedy."

Mrs. Emma Schnell, New Canada, Minn., writes:

"I enclose a picture of myself and family, for I want you to know how much good your medicine has done us. I use your remedy, Pe-ru-na, constantly in my family. It is worth its weight in gold. Whenever I have a cold or anything goes wrong in my system, the first thing is Pe-ru-na. It has saved me many doctor bills, and has done me much more good than a doctor could."

"A friend of mine, Mrs. Hawkins, was very sick, and the doctor could do nothing for her. When I spoke to her of Pe-ru-na, she said she had tried all sorts of patent medicines and it was only a waste of money, but I told her husband to get her a bottle of Pe-ru-na, and that if she did not feel the good effect of it within two days, I would pay him for it. When I returned two days later, they both thanked me for recommending Pe-ru-na. Now they would not be without it."—Mrs. Emma Schnell.

Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh. Half the illa of life are due to catarrh and catarrhal derangements. Pe-ru-na is the only internal, systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession.

Pe-ru-na cures catarrh wherever located. Pe-ru-na is not a guess nor an experiment—it is an absolute, scientific certainty. Pe-ru-na has no substitutes—no rivals. Insist upon having Pe-ru-na.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-ru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.
